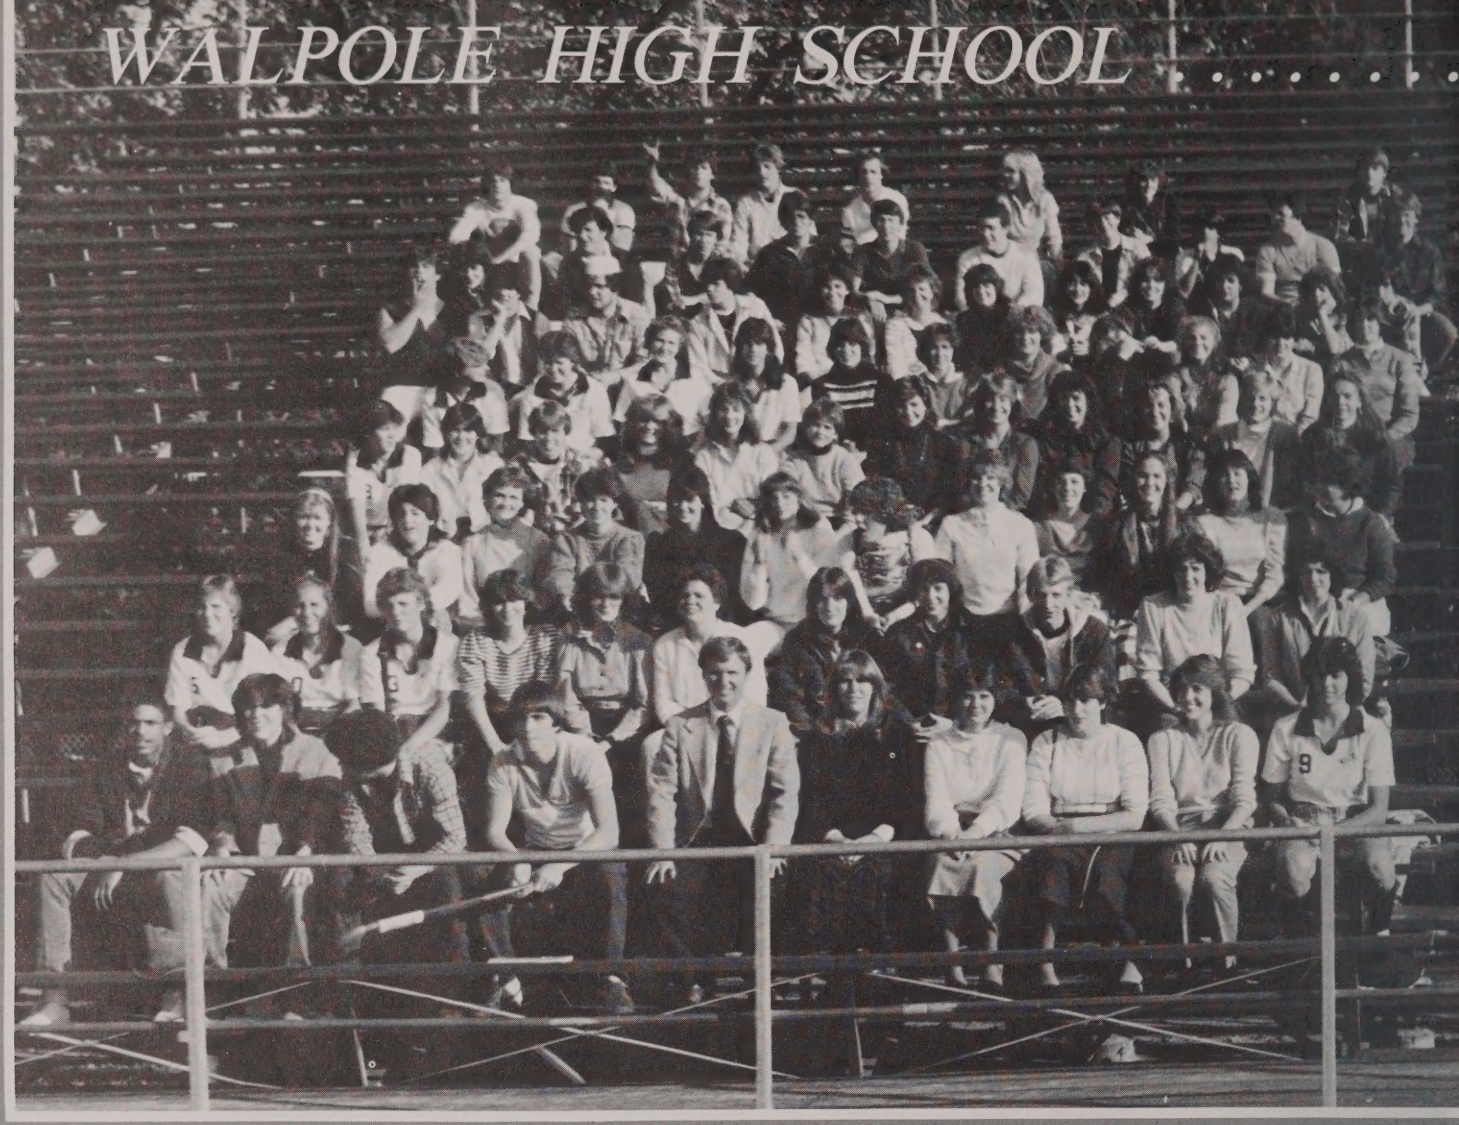
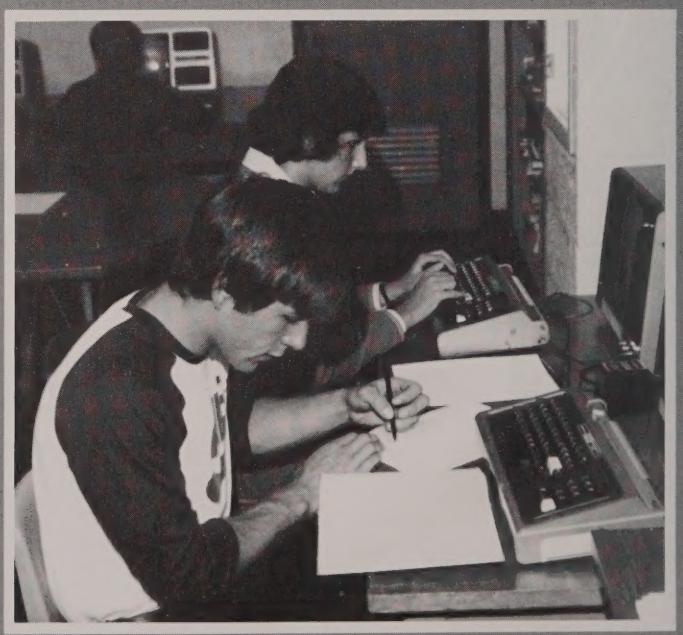
WALPOLE HIGH SCHOOL



At Sarajevo and Los Angeles, U.S. Olympic hopefuls targeted on the gold — aiming for the highest prize. It was not for want of trying that in some cases they settled for the silver or bronze — even failed to place.

Like their Olympic counterparts, the Class of '84 steadied on the target of excellence, striving for the gold — grateful for any lesser prize, knowing that each had competed with a superb will to win, whether in the arena of academia, the field of sports, or in the studio or concert halls of the arts.

Now, as the Class of '84 raises its sights on goals far beyond these narrow walls, may it continue to always strive for the gold.



. . . . . Always On Target!!

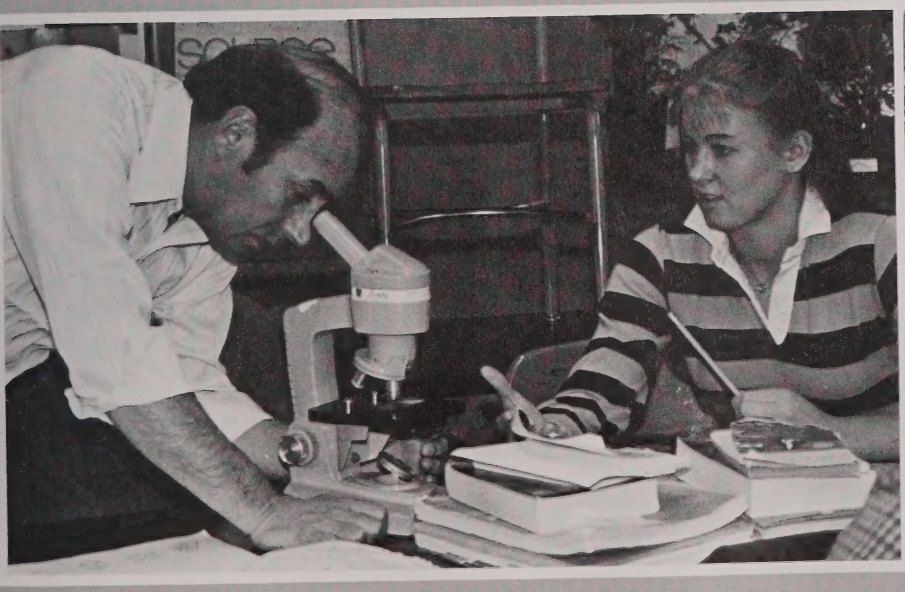
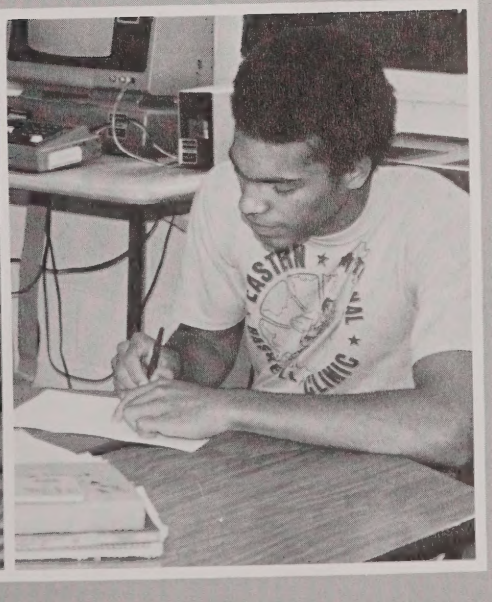
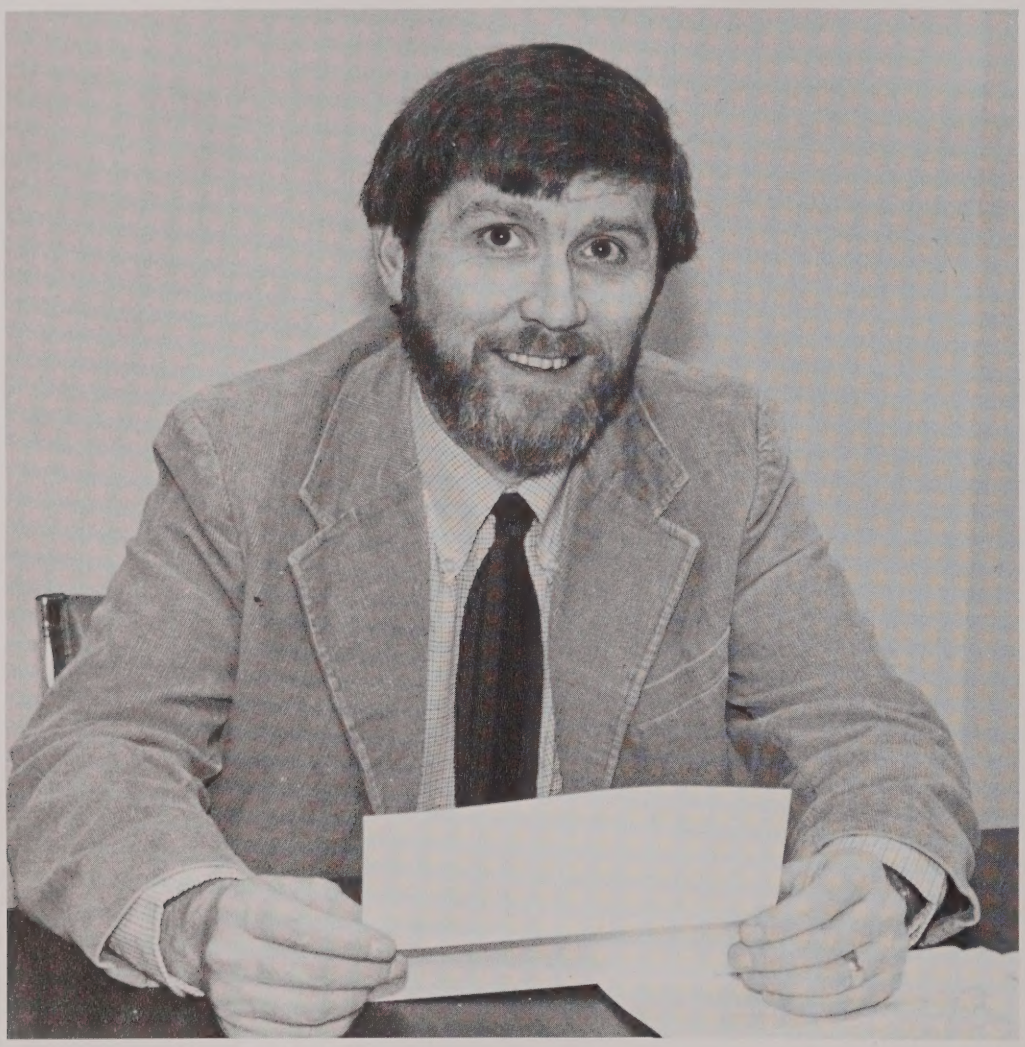
ACADEMICS





Administration



Principal Lester H. Burch

During the last days of the Class of 1984's high school career, Arthur Tsoutsanis met with Principal Lester H. Burch to talk about the senior class and its effect on the life of the school.

Mr. Burch revealed that the Class of 1984 can count many highly talented individuals as members — scholars (about 84% of this year's seniors are going on to further study, many to highly competitive institutions), actors, artists, athletes, and musicians. He pointed out that leaders seemed to emerge gradually through the years, giving him the impression that the class as a whole included many "late bloomers". "Those who reached an extraordinary peak of excellence as seniors were not especially outgoing, but led by example," said Mr. Burch.

He noticed that the momentum of the class seemed to shift into high gear with the careful planning of the 1983 Prom in May. As the fall season unfolded, in the usual Walpole tradition, some remarkable athletic feats began to occur, highlighted by the exciting path of the Girls' Basketball Team on its route to capturing the state championship.

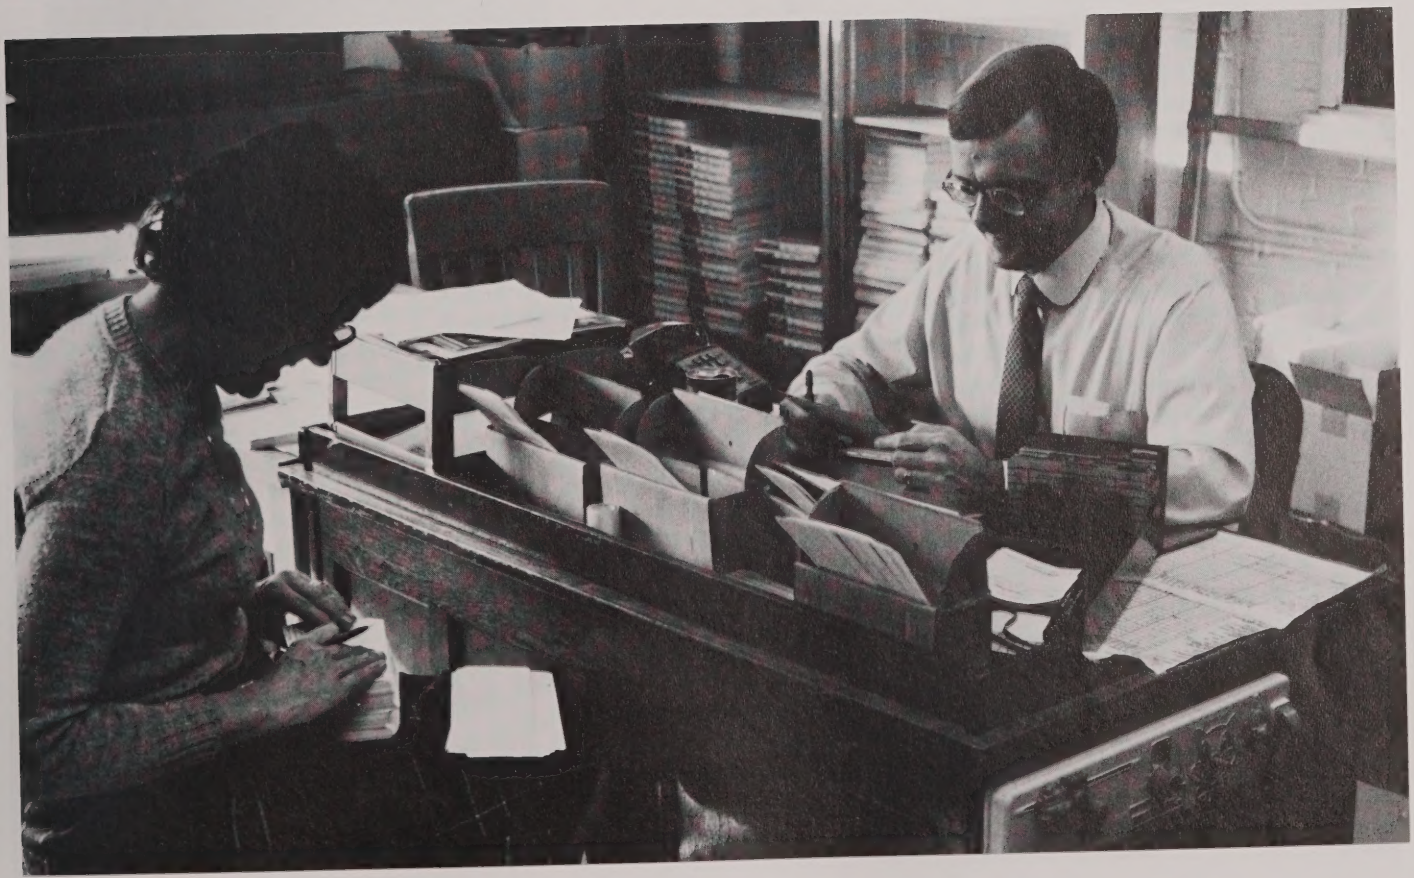
The Class of 1984 sponsored a successful semi-formal dance which had been absent from school activities for a few years, providing an idea for underclassmen to adopt. Mr. Burch, who had directed the school plays for the last two years until a new drama teacher was hired, thought that the Senior Class Play showed many hours of hard work and concern. He remarked, "A lot of talent was evident. It's too bad that some of the more promising students didn't get involved in acting earlier."

When Mr. Burch looks back on the Class of 1984, he will remember the students as hard workers, very dedicated, determined to do well; enthusiastic, but possessing "quiet leadership"; providers of a sound role model for other classes to follow.

1983 - 1984 On Schedule

Under the leadership of Principal Lester H. Burch, the school year 1983 - 1984 proved to be another worthwhile experience for the students of Walpole High School. Vice-principals Richard Cantrell (left) and Harry Graff (below with Secretary Marjorie Stuber) continued to lend their assistance, making sure that academics as well as extracurricular activities occurred on schedule.

As it has since the return of the ninth grade to the high school in 1981, Plimpton School continued to provide space to four regular classrooms and an alternate class, relieving the overcrowded situation.



Guidance

Over 1,500 Applications Processed

This year the Guidance Department saw an extraordinary increase in the number of students planning to further their education beyond high school. With 83% of the Class of 1984 applying to some type of post-high school institution, over 1,500 applications were processed.

Once again students received help from the American Career Educational Service by using the computer in the Guidance Office. Information on such topics as financial aid, colleges, and career choices was thus readily available to all who took advantage of this service.

Regional College Nights and Financial Aid Meetings were held as usual. During January, while on vacation from colleges, a few members of the Class of 1983 returned to share their recent experiences with the Class of 1984.

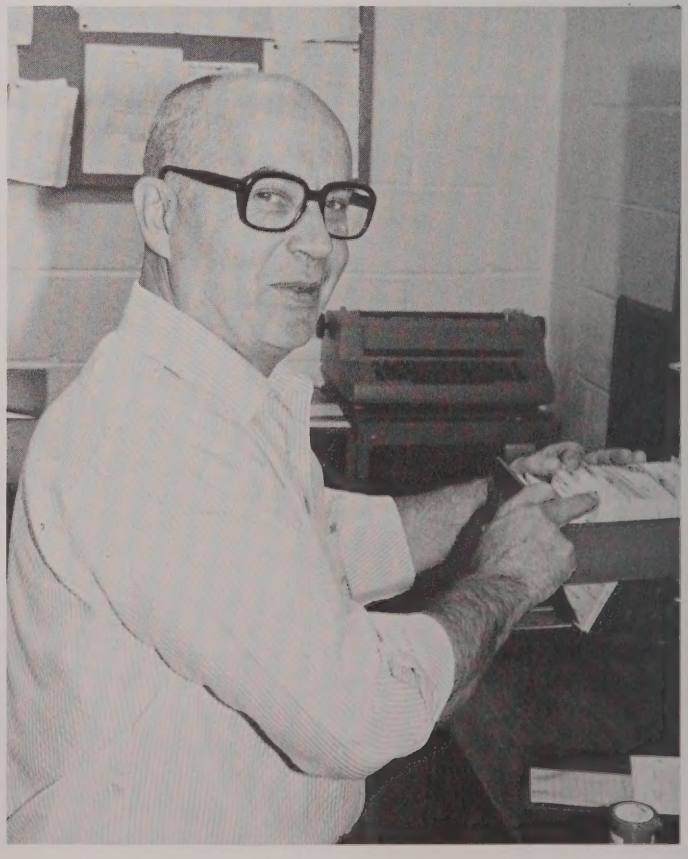
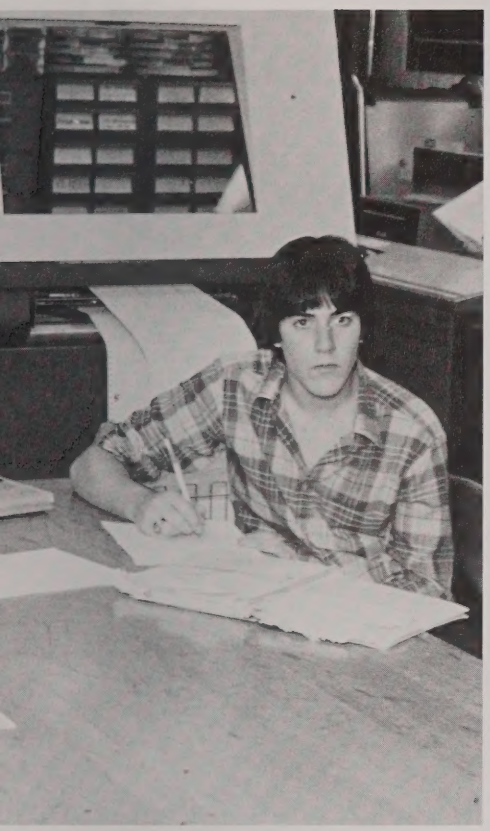
Data Processing

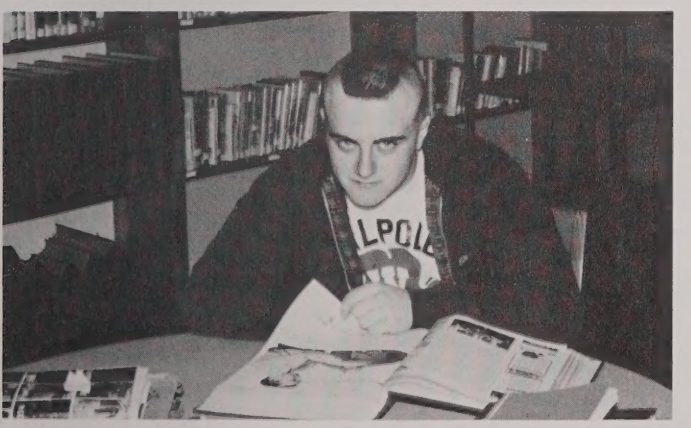
Media



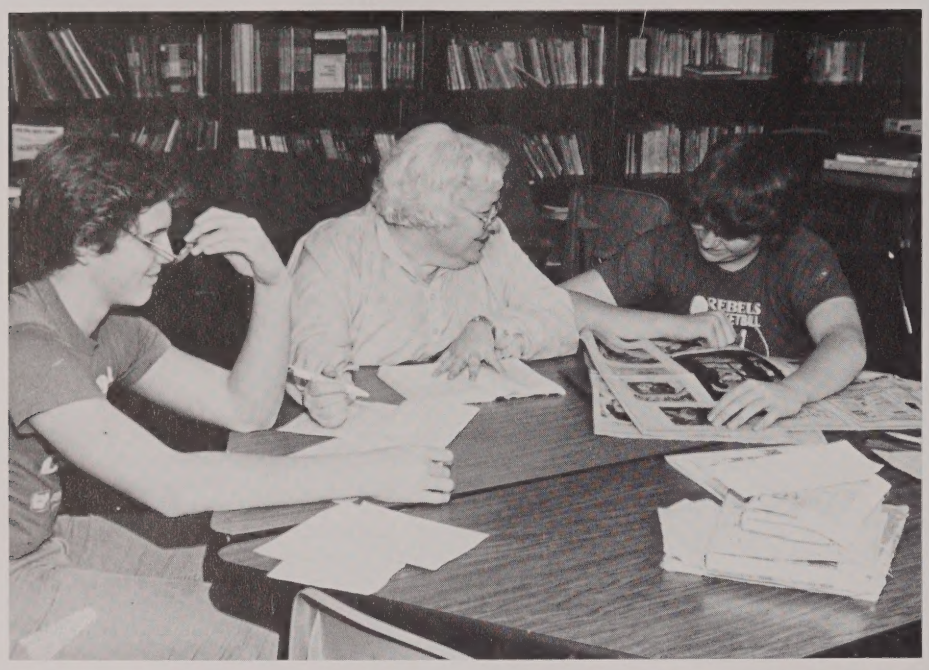


As the year ended, the Data Processing Department received the welcome news that Town Meeting Members had approved the purchase of a new computer system. High School Data Processing Director, Mr. Francis Foley, shown to the far left, will assume additional duties overseeing this new installation which will help to serve the entire town. Also shown to the left in one of Mr. Foley's Computer Programming classes are: Barbara McSweeney and Dave Leonard.

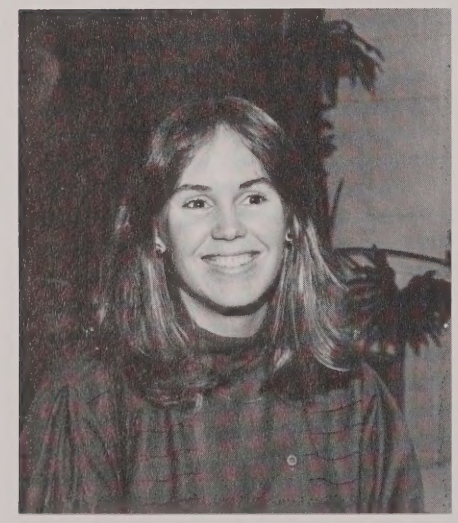
In a reorganization of the town's media services, at the start of Semester II, Mrs. Amy Jane Winchell, (bottom far left), replaced Mr. Roger Kebler (bottom second to left), Media Specialist, who held the position for Semester I, and then transferred to another school within the system. Students continued to be well served in all aspects of audio and visual materials. Shown below are: left top, Hockey player Dan Delellis, using the media center while sporting his Mohawk Haircut (received in preparation for a game with Norwood which Walpole lost); left bottom, Mrs. Mary Bowen, Aide; and bottom right, Mrs. Lucina Nagle, Aide.

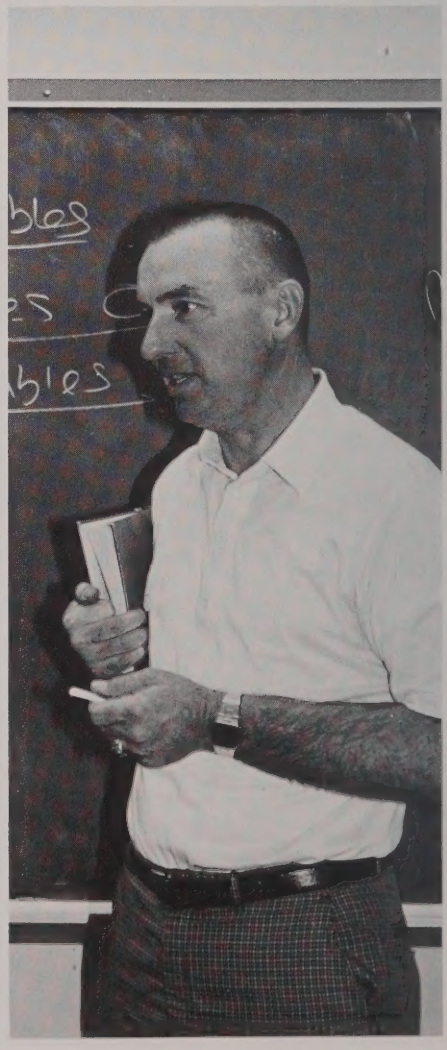


Supportive Services



Contributing to the academic improvement of many students who use its services, the Supportive Services Department continued to see a positive influence on the student body via its tutoring, conferences, and group teaching. Shown to the left are John Coffey, Ms. Elizabeth Delaney, and David Brown. Below are: Upper left, Ms. Margaret Howard, upper middle, Mrs. Marilyn Stone, lower left, Ms. Eileen Strier, lower right, Mr. Charles Cole; and below right, Mr. James Lind.





Metco

Now in its eighteenth year, the METCO program continues to flourish. In spite of the long ride to and from Boston each day, 16 students attend Walpole High School, participating in its extra curricular activities as well as gaining experience in an intergrated academic atmosphere. METCO students may be found in music organizations, athletic teams, the yearbook staff, National Honor Society, and many other groups. Host families assigned to each student also contribute to this very successful cultural exchange. Shown to the left are Robyn Trammell and Alicia Brooks as they chat with Mrs. Penny Murdock, tutor. Not photographed: William Biggs, Bruce Van Alstyne, Timothy Dale, Marquita Dunbar, Portia Liggins, Jesse Stots.

Custodians

Still responsible for maintaining both Plimpton and the High School, after a summer of hard work, custodians presented grateful students and faculty with tidy buildings which were kept in top condition for the remainder of the school year. English

Writing Is Thinking

As the curtain rose on the first act of the 1983-1984 school year, there, centerstage, stood the patriarchal sage, Dr. Arthur Hull, Chairman of the English Department, speaking his now-famous line: "Writing Is Thinking." It was not a new idea, of course, but it came with new force as the faculty audience sought the cause and cure for declining SAT Verbal Scores. "Since writing is thinking," Dr. Hull asserted, "it is the job not only of the English Department, but of every department in the school to see that students learn to write well." The polite applause was somewhat cautious as the faculty wondered how much more work it would involve to implement this radical thinking.

In the second act, Dr. Hull appeared as the astute and efficient "Dr. Quality Control", known more commonly as Chairman of BOP, Board of Publications. In the third and final anti-climatic act, as the school year came to an end, Sherlock Hull sought to solve the case of the missing texts. Apparently Willy Loman was on the road again because he couldn't be reached at his usual address in Bookroom "C" — or was it "B"? And what was Hester Prynne doing sandwiched in between dog-eared copies of "Black Like Me" when everyone knew her place was next to Flaubert's "Emma Bovary"?

All in all, the 1983-1984 premier performance was impressive. It underscored again that the handwriting on the wall is not always necessarily graffiti, but may at times be a somber reminder that he who thinks right — writes right. Encore!

Programming In Basic And Pascal

The Mathematics Department continued to offer a variety of courses including computer programming in Basic and Pascal.

In the American High School Mathematics Examination given in March, Paul Rooney was the highest scorer from Walpole, followed by Beth Radzwill and Alice Paquette who tied for second.

The Mathematics Team continued to compete under the guidance of Mr. Greene and missed receiving a trophy in the sectional playoffs by a mere three points. The team finished fourth overall in the Southeastern Massachusetts Mathematics League which is composed of 15 teams.

Computers In Chemistry And Physics

This year the Science Department saw an increase in the use of computers in Chemistry and Physics. Over the next two years they will be introduced to Biology and Physiology, providing a solid background for those students planning to take science in college. As the curriculum is updated and revised, the main emphasis of the department continues to be on laboratory experiments.

Field trips included the Oceanography students' visit to Cape Cod where they studied the effects of waves on the shoreline and the beach environment; Chemistry students attended a lecture on "Living Molecules" at the Boston Museum of Science; and noise abatement and pollution control were studied at Norwood Airport by Environmental Science students. The prestigious Bausch and Lomb Science Award was won by senior Paul Rooney who achieved the highest scholastic standing in science at our school. Designed to convert energy from the Neponset River into electricity for the high school, the hydropower project is expectd to be on line next summer.

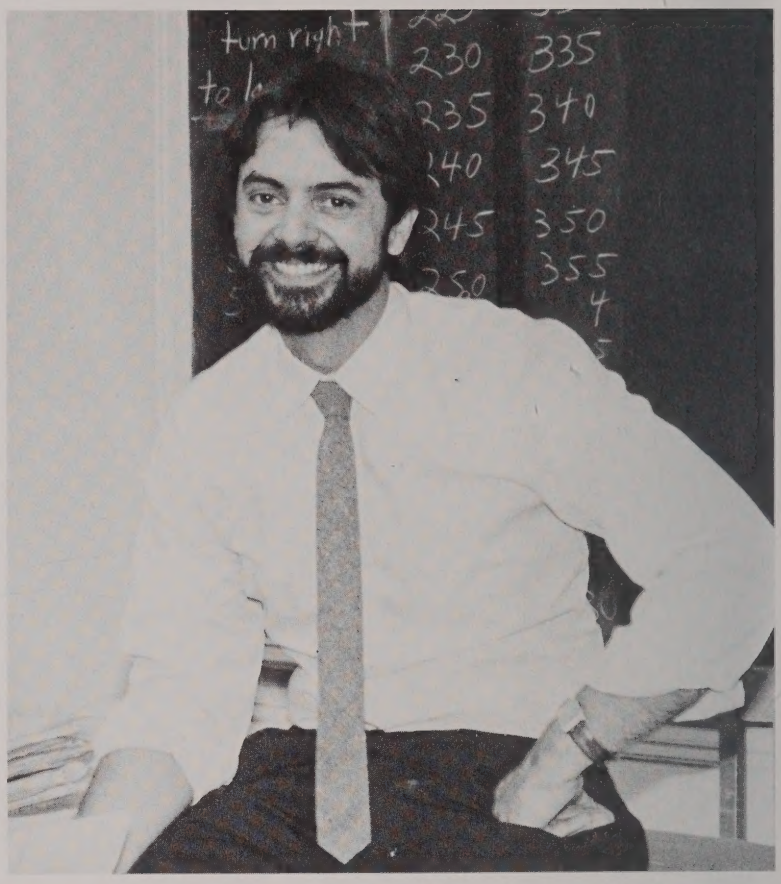
Foreign Language



In an attempt to combat the problem of declining enrollment in some foreign language classes, an exchange program was initiated with Westwood High School. The Educational Collaborative, a nine-town cooperative to which Walpole belongs, provided a van to facilitate the schedule whereby Walpole German students travelled to Westwood and Westwood Latin students were taught at Walpole. Deemed a successful idea, plans are being made to continue its operation next year.

Walpole and Westwood Exchange Students

Walpole High School was again host to the National Spanish Exam as well as a Foreign Language Proficiency Workshop for 75 Eastern Massachusetts foreign language teachers. German classes were treated to a Christmas party at the Goethe Institute in Boston. Foreign Language Week was celebrated by the appearance of various signs throughout the school naming objects in either German, Latin, French, or Spanish. A contest was held each morning also.

Social Studies

Democracy Lives At Walpole High

Striving to demonstrate the principles of democracy, the social studies department oversees all elections at school, including class officers, requiring students to register by a certain date in order to become eligible to vote. Since 1984 is a year when Americans vote for a President, this year a mock debate and election was held with students acting as candidates Gary Hart, Walter Mondale, and Ronald Reagan.

Another attempt to expose students to the workings of the U.S. Government is the annual Project Close-Up trip to Washington, D.C., conducted by Ms. Chris Geoghegan. This creates an opportunity for the visitors to meet their representatives, senators, and, for a select group, the President. In addition to seminars at various government buildings, sightseeing and social events are also on the agenda.

Business Skills Modernized

Increasing the Business Department's computer lab to 16 computers and 4 printers through a Federal Vocational Grant has created the opportunity for additional students to become proficient in the use of a skill now requested by a growing number of businesses. As new software becomes available, the Business Department looks forward to serving all segments of the student population with this new equipment as they have routinely done in the past and present with other basic skills such as accounting, typewriting, office procedures, shorthand, machine transcription, and the use of business machines such as electronic calculators.

Students in the Co-operative Office Experience Program were able to use their skills in local businesses as a valuable prelude to full-time employment. Visits from former students are always welcome as they provide the department with an insight into current working conditions as well as advice on the most helpful high school courses. Thus, the department looks forward to seeing representatives from the Class of 1984 returning in the future, but in the meantime, wishes all graduates a successful life in the rapidly changing world of work.

Diversification Is The Name Of The Game

With so many of Walpole's athletic teams reaching tournaments or at least the upper echelons of the Bay State League, one must assume that the basic training given in physical education classes has influenced at least some of this talent to surface.

A full range of diversified activities allows for many different experiences during the course of the year. Students are exposed to sports such as: fencing, dancing, softball, soccer, tennis, floor hockey, archery, football, weight lifting, and basketball as well as outdoor survival and first aid courses. As in the past, qualified juniors and seniors are encouraged to assist in the teaching of freshmen classes. This has proven to be a beneficial experience for all concerned.

Industrial Arts

Printing
Electricity

In offering courses such as Wood Technology, Graphic Arts, Drafting, Technical Drawing, Architecture, Electricity, and Metal Technology, the Industrial Arts Department completed another year of full classes. Students acquired a variety of skills while completing interesting and worthwhile projects such as: printing T shirts, assembling radios, building model houses, and making metal tool boxes as well as many difficult wood items.

Rebels' Music Superb

Under the direction of their new Department Chairman, Mr. Carl Scheinman, the musical organizations offered superb entertainment for school personnel as well as the entire community. In addition to the usual concerts during the year, where much exceptional talent was on display, several highlights appeared along the way.

"Common Street", the Show Choir, made many appearances, also attending a Show Choir Workshop involving groups from other high schools in the state. After difficult auditions, Walpole sent Jennifer Hoefler, Sherie Gardner, Jennifer Larson, and Barbara Raker from the band; and Mark Auchukaitis, Patty Dixon, Marianne Duffy, Monique LaRiviere, Bill Poitras, and Barbara Wilson from the chorus to SEMSBA. The marching band, ever present during the football games, appeared in several parades; while the stage band participated in competitions at Berklee, Norwood, Blessed Sacrament; also providing its music for the "Spring Thing" at the King Philip. During the Christmas season, both the Brass Ensemble and Madrigals performed at Quincy Market.

Music activities were climaxed in March by a trip to Quebec City, where all groups performed, and the annual Pops Nite in May.

Students Receive Awards

As usual, Walpole High School students were recepients of several art awards this year. In the annual Globe Scholastic Art Competition, of the 17 pieces exhibited, 15 received gold keys as follows: Steven Cherella, Nancy Cibotti, James Gable, Paul Giandomenico, Tara Hanson, Donna McAveeney, Doreen McElroy, Kerri McLaughlin, Christopher Moore, Jeffrey Sedgwick (3 keys), Suzy Verbeck (3 keys, 1 honorable mention). An honorable mention was given to Kerry Hawkins. Sedgwick and Verbeck, both seniors, were selected as scholarship finalists as portfolio competitors. Lydia Anderson, Kerry McLaughlin, and Karen O'Keefe were awarded tuition free classes in advanced level drawing designed for the gifted art student from Boston University's School of Visual Arts.

In addition to the regular curriculum assignments, students were encouraged to contribute to the LABYRINTH, a magazine published by the journalism classes, where they were able to see their work accompanied by creative writing.

Third Place In Cheerleading Competition

Pom poms, perennial smiles, and boundless energy whirl in front of the stands to stir the crowds and lead them in cheers that urge the Rebel gridiron to conquer another challenger — Rebel cheerleaders, the catalyst that puts the sparkle in every game, the topping on every victory.

Weeks before the first football game, the girls are as busy in their training as the boys are in theirs, this year spending a week at the All-Scholastic Cheerleading Camp held at Worcester State College. Under a new coach, Ms. Darlene Glaser, the girls also worked hard to prepare for the cheerleading competition, held for the first time this year outside under the lights, where they earned a third place award.

Football

It was a near-flawless season that almost ushered the Rebels into another Superbowl contest, but Natick edged them out of that opportunity by giving Walpole their only loss of the year, resulting in a 8-1 finish. The final game against Framingham North on Thanksgiving gave Walpole its fifth shutout of the year (35-0), a trouncing that proved to everyone that the Rebels were one of the best-trained teams in the BSL. Coach General Lee was in total agreement. "They all played very well. The Rebels have had an outstanding second half of the season, playing as good as possible. It's one of the best teams I've ever coached."

Seven Players BSL All-Stars

The powerhouse of the team was Mike Farinacci — the rushing and scoring leader for the team. He put 86 points on the scoreboard with 10 touchdowns and 23 extra points kicking and one field goal. He ran 507 yards in 122 carries, and caught 23 passes for a total of 144 yards. Other stars of the team were the second leading rusher, Tim Moore; Jeff Maloof; and Quarterback Bill von Klock. Jim Burke led the team with 20 receptions for 387 yards. He had 5 touchdowns.

Steve Alexander and Bill vonKlock were recognized as Boston Globe and Boston Herald All-Scholastics. Alexander, Barry Eck, and vonKlock were also named as Boston Globe Division II All-Stars as well as Ledger All-Stars. The Dedham Transcript's All-Scholastic list included vonKlock, Alexander, Burke, Eck, and Andy O'Brien. The BSL named Steve Alexander, Peter Brown, Jim Burke, Barry Eck, Mike Farinacci, Dave Grasso, and vonKlock to its All-Star Team.

Field Hockey

First Time For Porkers Division I South Champs

The Porkers took their places on the field to face a formidable foe, Acton-Boxborough. Both teams had enjoyed an undefeated season; whoever won this one would be the Division I East Champs and would go on to compete for the State Championship. The winning goal came as both teams scrambled in front of the Walpole net when the aggressive Gayle Perry of Acton-Boxborough swatted the ball to end the season and the hopes of the Porkers who had been riding the crest of a wave since September that had carried them from becoming BSL Champs to winning the Division I South Sectional for the first time in their history, and finally being in contention for the East. In fact, the talented Rebels have advanced to the tournament every year since 1976, the second year of the tourney's existence.

Cross Country

Best Rebel Performance Since 1972

The team finished their season with a 15-50 sweep over Framingham North to bring their record to 7 - 2, the best Rebel performance since 1972, earning them third place in the Bay State League.

Co-captain Dan Plummer, senior Scott Miller, and sophomore Mike Scanlan had been Walpole's most consistent runners. In the Conference Meet, Scanlan was the first Walpole runner to cross the finish line as the Rebels captured third place. Dave Flanagan and Scanlan both earned BSL All-Star status on the day by finishing in the top ten. At the State Coaches Invitational Meet, Scanlan captured third place in his class. Dan Plummer had his best race of the year, finishing 5th out of 30 schools.

Cathy Saia First Rebel Girls' Soccer BSL All-Star

"We set out to make it to the middle echelon of the Bay State League," said Girls' Soccer Coach Bill Tompkins at the end of the season. "We tied with Framingham South for sixth place; and though we didn't quite reach our goal, we did show some real improvement." Over the past few years "improvement" was the key word as "wins" slowly inched their way over "losses" as some high calibre players emerged to spark a relatively new sport at WHS.

One big reason for the improved image of the team with its 3 wins and 3 ties over last year's 1 win and 4 ties was the playing of co-captain Cathy Saia. Anchoring the defense from sweeper, Saia played a big part in holding opponents at bay during close contests. She was good enough to become the first Walpole girl to be named to the Bay State League All-Star Girls' Soccer Team. Commenting on Saia's performance, coach Tompkins said, "I think being the first Rebel girl to make the BSL All-Star team is a great honor for Cathy. She was not only a good player, but she was a team leader and that was reflected in her winning the team MVP award."

The Daily Transcript named Cathy, Kristin Friedholm, and Holly Ash as All-Stars. Tompkins predicts a .500 season next year with 35 girls returning and another 20-25 freshmen expected to try out.

Young Team Rebuilds For The Future

With a team made up of 9 freshmen, 3 sophomores, 1 junior, and 2 seniors, the Golf Team did well to chock up a 3-4 record for the season. Co-Captains Craig Cropper and Jeff Palleiko were sent to the State Individual Tournament in the spring, held at the Easton County Club. Jeff Rodgers and Bob Travers, other golfers contributing some fine moments for the team, also attended the tournament.

Coach Lind was pleased with the varsity experience his young team gained, and looks forward to improvement next year after the 1983-1984 rebuilding program.

Back To Drawing Board

With 13 of 17 players lost to graduation, a major overhaul was in line for the Walpole Boys' Soccer Team. Coming off the best season in their history, it was time to regroup and rebuild the 1983-1984 team. Under the leadership of captains Dave Henderson and Ken Rowe, the Rebels went out and earned the respect of the league with a fine second half of the season finish. A steady improvement was evident by the fact that during the second time around against their Bay State League rivals, every game was a marked improvement in play and score than their first confrontation.

A season-ending victory vs. Framingham North was a satisfying end to a long, enduring season. Said Coach Delaney, "We went out there with the same attitude we had all year — to give it our best shot."

Maureen O'Gorman BSL All-Star

The one advantage of having a 0-18 record is that next season you can expect to either tie or better it. That thought may be little consolation, but at least it takes the strain off trying to maintain last year's record-breaking season.

On the serious side, it takes as much or more heart to keep on giving it your best when you're in the cellar as it does when you're scaling the heights. The heady euphoria of snatching a BSL or State Championship pumps the juices, and that prize just a fingertip away urges you beyond your limit. Without that, the path is much more rocky unless one decides to play just for the fun of it.

Typically, out of the no-win record a winner emerges: senior Maureen O'Gorman who was named to the Bay State League All-Star volleyball team, which only goes to prove that even in the cellar there are steps leading to the top.

Mike Smith Division II South Champion

This past wrestling season was reminiscent of the Jonathan Swift classic with Gulliver towering above the struggling Lilliputians. In the role of Gulliver, of course, was Mike Smith, the one bright spot in a rather bleak season plagued with forfeits because of injuries, sickness, etc.

Mike Smith made it all the way to first-round action in the New England Tourney where in his 158-pound weight class he lost by one point to his Rhode Island opponent in overtime. To qualify for the tourney, Smith had placed third in the Division 2 State Tourney at Milford High School two weeks before. In that competition Smith entered a double elimination tourney in which he lost to the tourney's second seed and won matches in the consolation semi-finals and final. In the consolation final Smith beat Peter Perkins of Masconomet (11-7) to take third place in the state.

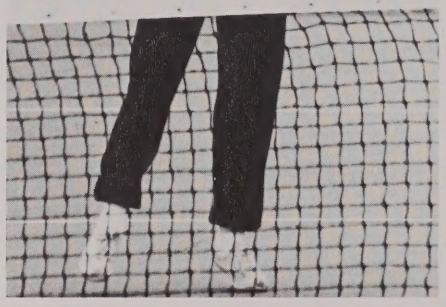
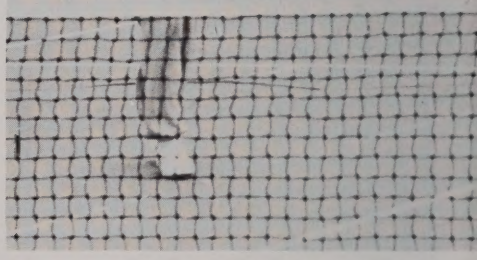
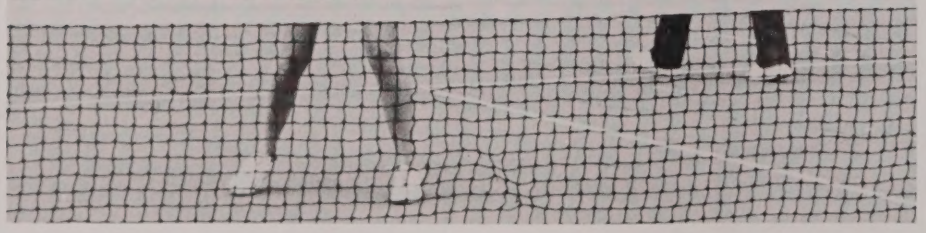
Girls' Tennis







Most Wins Ever For Walpole Tennis

Although Concord-Carlisle eliminated the Girls' Varsity Tennis Team from the Eastern Massetts Division I Tourney to become state champs, Coach Tony Green said, "The kids went up against the strongest team in the state and they should be proud to lose 3-2. Everyone played well." Despite the loss, the girls had a good year, finishing second in the BSL. This was not only the most wins ever by a Walpole Tennis Team, but it was the first Walpole tennis team to win a tournament game — Walpole 3, Weymouth South 2 — on their way to the above defeat.

Senior Co-Captain Simone Sliby (second singles player) and senior Lisa Famiglietti (first singles player) were named BSL All-Stars with records of 15-2 and 15-4 respectively. In third singles, junior Cathy Verderber posted a record of 17-2. During league action this season the doubles team won 38 games and lost 2. Beth Keeling and Cathy Collins were the South Sectional Individual Tournament Champions, losing in the state finals, but named as All-Scholastics by the Boston Globe which also chose Coach Tony Green as Division I Coach of the Year.

Hockey

"I thought we played good. The kids didn't let down; they finished the season with class." Those were the words of Coach Ed Kirrane after the final game of the season that the Rebels lost to Framingham North, 4-3. If Walpole had won, they would have spoiled North's chances of qualifying for post-season tournament play. As it was, the Rebels completed the season with a 7-10-1 league record and were 8-11-1 overall. Reflecting on the season, coach Kirrane felt the team's weakness was "... our inability to score." The Rebels were good on defense, but Kirrane felt scoring goals was only 50% of what it ought to have been.

McCologan And Neilsen Named BSL All-Stars

Senior defenseman Assistant Captain Brian McCologan was named to the Bay State League All-Stars for the third year. He was chosen as the league's best defenseman and voted most valuable player by the BSL coaches. Captain Jeff Neilsen was picked as an All-Star for the second year in a row. In the BSL All-Star game against Natick, the league champs, Neilsen scored two goals and McCologan assisted on a goal, helping the All-Stars to win the game.

McCologan scored 15 goals this season with 12 assists; Neilsen was the team's second leading scorer with 9 goals and 11 assists. Jeff Maloof, Kevin Burns, and Carl Friedholm were also high scorers for the Rebels. Assistant Captain Dan deLellis allowed 30 goals and had 241 saves in the 34 games he played as goalie.

Second Place in BSL 1981, 1982 1983, 1984

Though the eighth ranked Rebels finished in sixth place at the South Sectional Tourney at North Quincy High School on February 22, 1984, they qualified for that tourney with a 7-1 record, good for second place in the Bay State League for the fourth consecutive year. Since Walpole missed qualifying for the state meet by .9 of a point, Coach Terri Thornton, understandably disappointed said, "... it's an honor to have made the sectionals. We had our chances. We didn't take advantage of every opportunity. The team performed well and scored one of their highest meets of the year."

An outstanding performer was sophomore Kim Lestan who for the second time in the season set two new school records: all-around competition with a 33.3 point total, .6 of a point better than her previous record; and 8.5 in floor exercise. She also broke her week-old school record of 33.33 with a 33.35, and the vaulting record with a 9.05 score. Kim set two other new school records this year: 8.6 on uneven bars and 33.7 all-around. Kim was highlighted as BSL vaulting champion, BSL All-Star, Daily Transcript All-Star and MVP, and Patriot Ledger All-Star.

Other bright lights were Co-Captain Sharon McCormack, Kristin Seastrand, Jill Russell, and Patrice Cappelletti, all Daily Transcript All-Stars. Sharon was also named the Transcript Unsung Hero. Coach Terri Thornton was the Transcript's Coach of the Year for the second consecutive year.

Best Record Since 1960

After 24 years of being a low team on the totem pole, Coach Dick Sizer's boys climbed out of the cellar with a vengeance to finish third in the Bay State League. It was a rags-to-riches story that was almost as heady as winning a State Tourney. Even though they lost in the Division II South Sectionals, in finishing the league season with a 14 - 4 record, the Rebels shook the curse that had plagued them in past dirges.

Of course every win is a team effort, but for Walpole the morale builder was MVP Mark Langmead. As senior Tri-Captain of the team, Mark swept up more accolades than a Hoover Vacuum Cleaner: Captain of the Bay State League All-Star Team, Most Valuable Player, Ken Nolet Memorial Award Bay State League, Bay State League leading scorer, Daily Transcript All-Scholastic Most Valuable Player, Trinity College basketball scholarship. Underclassmen who shared some of the limelight were juniors John MacPhee and Tom Walsh. Both were chosen by the Transcript for members of the All-Scholastic Team. MacPhee was also chosen for the Bay State League All-Star Team.

Winter Track Returns To Walpole

After molding in the locker for six winter seasons, track shoes were rescued from their sabbatical hibernation and placed on the restless feet of this year's team who finished with a 3-6 record. The usual "look-over-the-shoulder-reminiscence" was offered by Coach Jim Erker who said, "My feeling is that it was a very successful season because we were very competitive in the league. The only two teams to outclass us were Norwood and Needham."

Sophomore Mike Scanlan was Walpole's leading point man with 48 for the season. He was also the top miler and ran in the relay squad which took first place four times. Scanlan placed first eight times during the season and came in second once. His time of 4:30.7 at the State Class C meet at Harvard on February 10, 1984, which set a WHS indoor record, was seven seconds under his previous top finish, and earned him a second place finish in the mile. Senior Co-Captain Dan Plummer, the team's second leading scorer, earned 36¾ points with six firsts and a second-place finish. He ran three relays which Walpole won. His specialty was the 1000-yard run.

Senior Dave Grasso, the best shot putter in the BSL, set a WHS indoor record with a toss of 52-6½ against Norwood. Grasso then placed second in his event in the State Class C meet, throwing a 50-3 to take second in the state. The Coaches Award went to Senior Chris McLean.

First Time South Sectional And State Champions

As the final buzzer sounded at the Worcester Centrum, the Rebel flag was hoisted to mark one of the most notable victories the WHS girls' basketball teams had ever attained in the 100-plus-year history of the school. For the first time they were South Sectional Champs and had now also won the State Championship by humbling their challengers from Monument Mountain with a score of 56 - 24.

The margin of victory was typical of what the team had done all season in its near-perfect 17-1 record as it swept by its BSL challengers with an average of 39 points per game for its second consecutive BSL title. There were only two games throughout the season when the team really felt the heat of competition. The first was their only defeat (to their traditional next-door rival, the Norwood Mustangs) with a score of 48 to 53. The second chiller came against North Andover, the final challenger standing between the Rebels and the State Championship game. The Rebels sweat through to a near miss — 58 - 56.

It was a stellar team made up of some stars of real magnitude, led by senior co-captains Amy Swansburg who was named to the Patriot Ledger, Boston Herald, and Daily Transcript Girls' All-Scholastic Basketball Teams; and Nancy Cibotti who received All-Scholastic honors from the Herald, Transcript, and Ledger, also being elected Division II Player of the Year by the Boston Globe.

The strategist and number one cheerleader of the team, Coach Sue Brainard, was named by the Boston Globe as Coach of the Year in the Eastern Massachusetts Girls' Basketball Division II. How sweet it is!

Baseball

There were many who felt that this year's team couldn't even come close to last year's 15-3 BSL record considering the losses suffered when the entire pitching staff graduated. It was a young team, only 3 lettermen returning, with a mix of 6 seniors, 5 juniors, and 5 sophomores on the squad, but the bleak prophecy was never fulfilled as the team ended in 4th place in the BSL. Coach Tompkins, commenting on the season said, "Overall, I'm satisfied with the way the year went. After an 0-3 start and problems with illness ... we came back to finish our last 17 games 12-5."

Bob Bonner Sports .400 Batting Average

Senior tri-captain Bob Bonner led the offense with a .400 batting average. He also had most stolen bases (11) and tied tri-captain Bill vonKlock in most runs scored, 21. Tri-Captain Steve Smallwood held the team's best on-base average of .518. VonKlock led the team with 28 RBIs and most extra bases. He had 6 doubles, 3 triples, and 3 home runs with a batting average of .369. Chosen by the Daily Transcript and for the Bay State League All-Stars were Bob Bonner and Bill vonKlock. Pitcher Tom Walsh was selected for the Transcript All-Stars.

State Distance Medley Captured

With a 4-5 record, the Boys' Spring Track Team finished its best season since joining the Bay State League in 1957. According to Coach James Erker, four seniors were largely responsible for the wins: Co-Captains Dan Plummer and Jeff Neilsen; Steve Courtney; and Dave Grasso.

Courtney, a sprinter, was the leading scorer for Walpole with 96 points. He was also a Bay State League All-Star in two events at the Conference Meet. He placed second in the 220 and fifth in the 100. The team's MVP Dave Grasso was the second leading scorer with 88. He won the shotput in eight of nine meets, accumulating 88 of a possible 90 points. Grasso also set a Bay State Conference and WHS record in the javelin with a throw of 194-7. In the conference meet he was named All-Star in both javelin and shotput events. At the State Class C Meet Grasso placed fourth in the javelin with 170-4.

Co-captain Dan Plummer collected 55 points while Co-Captain Jeff Neilsen had 45. Neilsen was a conference All-Star having placed first in the 440. Plummer was an All-Star capturing second place in the 880. The two outstanding underclassmen on the team were Mark Anchukaitis who set a new school record for the 330 low hurdles and Mike Scanlan, who with Plummer, Neilsen, and Dave Flanagan brought Walpole the State Championship in the distance Medley at the Coaches Relay Meet. Coach Erker believes the strength of the team both this year and next is in distance events.

BSL Champs

In their game against the Weymouth Mustangs, the Rebels were just one out away from moving on to the semi-finals. The score was 3-2 when a string of Rebel errors in the top of the seventh gift-wrapped two runs for the Mustangs who went on to hold the Rebels scoreless in the bottom of the final inning — final score, 4-3. Lamented Coach Penny Calf, "I was absolutely devastated when we lost. I thought we had it." The reason for the loss? "There was a total lack of concentration in the seventh inning . . . the defense folded."

Despite that tourney disappointment, the girls were the Bay State League Champions with an impressive 12-6 record, the best Walpole softball record — and four girls were chosen to play the Bay State League All-Star team: Jean Collins (Transcript, Ledger, and Globe Division I All-Star as well as most valuable player); catcher and captain Nancy Cole (batting champion All-Star with a .463 average); Lisa Smith (MVP and Transcript All-Star); and Maura Sullivan (Transcript and Ledger All-Star).

Coach Penny Calf, chosen Division I Softball Coach of the Year by the Boston Globe, has decided to resign after 15 years in that position.

Most Walpole Wins Ever In BSL Boys' Tennis

Though the 8-9 season finish was not the Mt. Everest of the Bay State League, it was, at least, a respectable summit on the horizon, humping above the barely visible rolling foothills of past seasons. In fact, this year's record piled up the most wins ever in the history of boys' tennis at Walpole — and Mark Jacobsen is the first #1 singles player to have a BSL winning record.

The hope that springs eternal — that vision of doing even better next year — still burns in Coach Tom Morris' wistful eye, and the promise just might be fulfilled, considering that this young squad that did so well will be back to challenge the nets next year. Shoot for the stars!

The team finished the season on a high note, beating Framingham North 75-51, giving them a 5-4 record in the Bay State League. Co-Captain Sharon McCormack, Kim Lestan, Valerie McCormack, and Kristin Friedholm were named as Daily Transcript All-Stars. They were joined by Mary Ellen McSweeney and Lynne MacKinnon as being named BSL All-Stars after the BSL Conference Meet in May where Kim placed first in the 100 for the second consecutive year; Sharon second in the high jump; and Lynne MacKinnon second in the javelin. Sharon, Lynne, Kim, Lisa MacKenzie, and Nicole Sliby qualified for the State Class C Championships where Sharon placed second in the high jump.

Co-Captain Sharon McCormack Sets New Record

Sharon was the team's leading scorer this year with 100¼ points, earned by competing in long and high jump, the 440, and relay events. She broke the school record in the high jump with a 5-5, bettering the 1978 record of 5-4. Valerie McCormack, Sharon's sister, was the second leading scorer with a 71 from taking part in the hurdling events. Kim Lestan, who set a new school record of 12.6 in the 100, was the team's third highest scorer with 59¼ points.

Student Government

Seniors

All were kept busy planning the usual senior activities such as graduation, Christmas Assembly, play, and class trip. Although a rainy day dampened the class trip, the sun shone for graduation, and the class play was a big hit.

Juniors

Sophomores

The sophomore class sponsored the selling of key rings with the Rebel symbol and candy canes delivered with messages at Christmas to add to the treasury in anticipation of expenses expected during the upcoming junior and senior years. Shown to the right are: Adviser Ms. Ellen-Marie Murphy, Secretary Kristin Collins, President Diane Highes, Treasurer Greta Hedberg, and Vice-President Patricia Haynes.

Freshmen

Shown to the right are: Treasurer Teresa Curran, Vice-President Daniel D'Attilio, Adviser Mr. James Erker, President Scott Sanborn, and Secretary Maureen Tarbell. As freshmen entered the high school, they became active members of clubs, athletic teams, musical organizations, and other student activities. The selection of a company to provide rings for the Class of 1987 was the most responsible task undertaken by class officers.

Student Council

The Student Council represents the whole student body, always available to help solve student problems, performing as a link with the administration, which has been extremely cooperative. Activities this year included the supervision of the school store, Bloodmobile, underclassmen pictures, and Globe Santa collections. Two scholarships were given to deserving 1984 graduates. Shown to the left are: Front row: Faculty Adviser, Mr. Peter Turco, President Pamela Sortir, Scott Sanborn, Jennifer Cook, Brian Famaglietti; Second Row: Melissa Twiss, Christine Morris, Nicole Sliby; Third Row: Sandy Arthur, Maureen Powers; Fourth Row: Treasurer Diana Maenhout, Cathy Verderber, Jill Nuzzolo; Fifth Row: Carolyn Bassett, Secretary Maureen Kierce, Michelle Allen; Sixth Row: Reneé Saba, Susan Lucas; Seventh Row: Cathy Collins, Sheila Connolly, Noreen Connolly; not photographed: Vice-President Michelle Goodnow, John Walsh, Suzanne Doiron, David Feltquate, Mary Rosenthal, David Thwing, Daniel D'Attilio, Christine Macone, Maureen Tarbell, Michelle Weber, Beth Woodson.

Students are elected at large to work with the School Committee by representing the views and opinions of the student body.

THE STUDENT ADVISORY COUNCIL TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATORS is a state-wide organization with student representation from each Massachusetts high school, designed to discuss student concerns and educational issues. Shown above are: Walpole High School's Michelle Goodnow and Adviser Mr. Harry Graff.

National Honor Society

Impressive Ceremony For 32 New Members

At 7:30 p.m., on May 21, 1984, 32 members of the Class of 1985 were inducted into the National Honor Society during an impressive ceremony in the auditorium. Mr. Thomas Joy gave the charge to new members as seniors assisted in the installation. Following the program, which had begun with the traditional Candlelight Procession, relatives and friends gathered in the cafeteria to congratulate the inductees.

As in the past, seniors had participated in the annual American Heart Association Phonathon in February, while waiting for the national decision on new rules and regulations for membership in the organization.

Ten Little Indians

Walpole's Drama Club, the Walpole Players, provides drama experiences for students interested in the theater. They also enjoy a trip to the theater to observe professional performances. Under a new director, Mrs. Diane Hudson, the main activity this year was the production of Agatha Christie's murder-mystery "Ten Little Indians" on the nights of December 15 and 16, 1983. Students were involved in all aspects: acting, directing, set design, set construction, lighting, sound, costume, make-up, programs, and advertising.

The four major characters were played by Judy Reilly as Vera Claythorne, Tripp Tyner as Phillip Lombard, Dana Moreshead as William Blore, and Barbara Wilson (who is to be congratulated on her ability to adjust to the part in two week's time) as Lady Margaret Mary Wargrave. April Bickford was also superb in her portrayal of Emily Brent. Others in the cast were: Jeff Mann as Rogers, Elana Duffy as Mrs. Rogers, Matthijs Schoots as Fred Narracott, Chris O'Hare as Anthony Marston, Mark Wilson as General MacKenzie, and Maureen O'Keefe as Dr. Armstrong. Mrs. Hudson and the cast are to be commended on a job well done.

The Present Meets The Past

A member of the National and Massachusetts Junior Classical Leagues, the Latin Club is comprised of both present and past Latin students. Its purpose is to not only provide educational activities related to the classical world through its monthly meetings, but to also create an awareness of how and where the study of Latin becomes important in the modern world. Officers take part in planning the monthly meetings which this year included a scavenger hunt, Saturnalia party, slide presentations, and interclass volleyball game, climaxed by the Roman Banquet in May where a chariot race, Olympics, contests, plays, slave auction, and other Roman activities were enjoyed before and after dinner.

Also on the yearly agenda were a trip to the Museum of Fine Arts in December to view the classical collection and the annual Classics Day at Boston College in March where Latin students from the entire state gathered for a day of lectures, contests, and movies.

Officers who helped make this a successful year were: Consuls — Paula Mahoney, Jean Collins; Scribe — Diane Brissette; Quaestor — Val McCarthy; Aedile — Carol Reardon.

REBEL On Target!

The 1984 Yearbook Staff, as those before them, worked long and hard to make this year's REBEL one that graduates and others will be proud to look at as an authentic picture of Walpole High School's 1983-1984 school year. When summer arrived and the graduation ceremony transformed seniors into alumnae, the well-laid plans of the fall were finally nearing the end of their activation with the expectation that the 1984 REBEL would take its place among the prize-winning editions of previous years.

The annual banquet was held in June at the Kahana Restaurant as shown above. After a delicious dinner and the distribution of gifts and awards, Mr. Manson entertained the staff and invited guests with his feats of magic. Receiving special Quill and Scroll Society gold pins in honor of their contributions to the 1984 REBEL were: Editor Michelle Snuffer; Advertising Manager Arthur Tsoutsanis (who also received a gold pin for his work as Business Manager of the REBELLION); Patricia Ryan, Advertising; Betsy Lockhart, Maureen Doherty, and Rebecca Noun for layouts.

Math Team

The Math Team had the most successful year in its history, placing 5th out of 15 teams in its league, and 4th in the playoffs. National Merit Scholarship winner Paul Rooney earned the highest school score on record and was 3rd highest scorer of all seniors in the league. Senior Mike Smith came in 3rd in the playoffs. Walpole's highest scoring juniors were Erica Murphy and Judy Chen; the top sophomore was David Feltquate. Shown to the left are: front row: Co-Captain Julia Bradley, Diane Brissette, Priscilla Newhall; second row: Mike Smith, Co-Captain Paul Rooney; third row: Barbara Raker, Dawn Alexander, Erica Murphy; fourth row: Bruce Sacerdote, David Feltquate; fifth row: Jennifer Cook, Paula McColgan, Scott Sanborn, Adviser Mr. Anthony Greene.

Radio Station

Leo Club

As an offshoot of the Lions Club, the Leo Club's activities center around community service. This year the club held a Christmas party at the Charwell House in Norwood as well as contributing its time to the Lions Club barn sale. Within the school system it is responsible for the weekly bulletin board at the high schol and provides tutors to the middle schools. Shown to the right are: front row: Sheila Hollowell, Tripp Tyner, Dave Flanagan, Brian Foley, Steve Mackay, Paula Nannicelli; second row: President Dean Sacerdote, Steve Tyner, Michael Mahoney, Mark Capperella, Lisa Gentile, Sandy Cibotti; third row: Amy Bickford, Marianne Duffy, Sue Hope, Jennifer LaFleur, Helen Ryan, Heather Campbell, Pam Irving, Pam Baker, Adviser Mr. Francis Foley, Samantha Drivas; not photographed: David Brown.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club has spent the year participating in various fundraisers in anticipation of an exchange program to Spain next year. A field trip to ChiChi's restaurant in Framingham was enjoyed by all. Shown above are: front row: Tony DeFilippo, Tracie Coan, Amy Letscher, Steve MacKay; second row: Patricia Currie, Kim Lestan, Nancy Agabian; third row: Michelle Cusick, Sheila Connelly, Debbie Connolly; fourth row: Kathie King, Pam Baker; fifth row: Jay Bell, Nancy Connolly, Elena Duffy; sixth row: Diane Highes, Hope Sanborn, Bernadette Martel, April Bickford; seventh row: Susan Hope, Michelle McMahon, eighth row: Advisers Mr. James Capone, Mr. George Watson.

French Club

The French Club departed on June 26, 1984, to spend four weeks with families in St. Cloud, France, a suburb of Paris. In July, 1985, these same Walpole students, after a year of written correspondence in French, will host their French brothers and sisters.

Thus, the exchange program entered its fourth year, taking on a new format with students doing the visiting in the summers instead of during the school year. Stays in respective countries can now be extended for a longer period, academic pressures are absent, and families have more flexible schedules in the summer.

After being immersed in a different way of life, becoming familiar with another culture, it is hoped that a better understanding of others and their country will result for all concerned.

SADD

SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) began the school year with the goal of raising the awareness of students and faculty to the dangers involved by driving after drinking, hoping to insure a safe year for all. A painful and sad reminder was the untimely death of popular and beloved Carolyn Woodward, Class of 1983, who left us so suddenly, but with fond memories of her vitality.

As spring arrived, with the promise of a Graduation and Prom on the horizon, efforts were increased by the scheduling of assemblies, debates, and morning announcements. A grim example of the consequences of drinking and driving was a wrecked car parked for several days on the front lawn of the school. Members shown to the right are: front row: Patrice Cappelletti, Amy Bickford; second row: Laurie Molloy, Paige Forrest, April Bickford, Lori Barnes; third row: Sheila Connelly, Cathy Saia, Helen Ryan, Carol Reardon, Pattie Dixon; fourth row: Nicole Sliby, Trip Tyner, Carrie Gable.

Rebellion

Out of circulation for two years, the newly resurrected REBELLION sprang to life in the fall of '83 and climaxed the year by winning first prize in its class for "General Excellence" in the Patriot Ledger's newspaper competition for high schools in the greater Boston area. Credit for the paper's outstanding success goes to Editor Mark Wilson who almost singlehandedly brought the fledgling publication to a measure of professional stature. Other staff members contributed through newswriting, typesetting, and pasting up.

New this year was the "Quality Control" (monitor) B.O.P. (Board of Publications) whose job it was to read, edit, and approve all material headed for print. Dr. Arthur Hull, Chairman of B.O.P., was very supportive and his editing put the final lustre on the copy.

Rebel Review

THE REBEL REVIEW, a full-page coverage of activities at Walpole High School appeared as Volume 6 the last Thursday of each month in 5 issues of the local newspaper, THE WALPOLE TIMES, from September, 1983 through January, 1984. The February through June, 1984 issues were printed in the DEDHAM TRANSCRIPT at the invitation of its editor, Mr. Phillip Keohane. Co-editors of the page were Kelly O'Neil and Beth Ruppenthal, both journalism students in Mr. Schnorbus' class. Donna Werner edited the first issue in the fall.

Labyrinth

THE LABYRINTH is the school's creative writing magazine, a publication of student writing submitted by individuals and English classes as mandatory assignments. Students artists contribute original work to illustrate the various poems, essays, and short stories. Editor for the first edition was Barbara McSweeney, for the second Trisha Robbins.

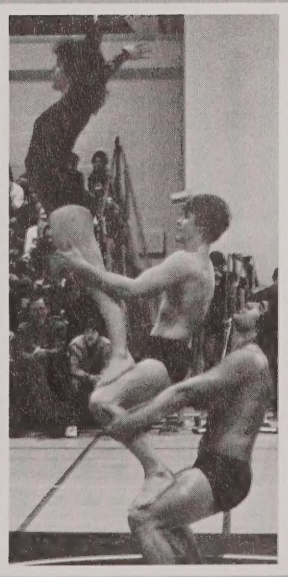
ACTIVITIES



Student Of The Month

Using the following criteria: attendance; leadership; enthusiasm; scholarship; improvement; conscientiousness; class participation; attitude toward class; acceptance of responsibility; work displayed beyond regular class requirements; and willingness to question, learn, and accept new ideas; a committee consisting of administrators and class advisers meets each month to determine the best qualified student nominated from each class. Students are also chosen for extracurricular activities where they have excelled.

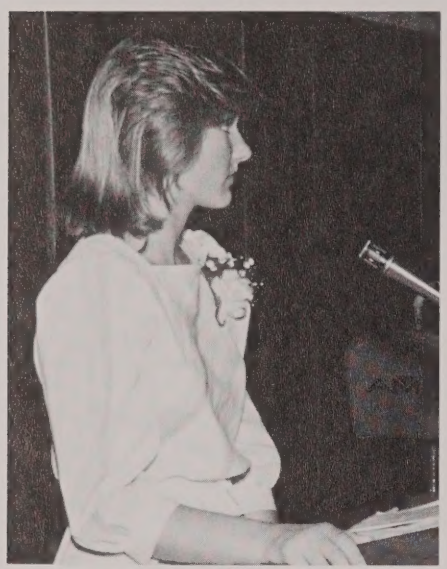
Gymnaestrada



Annual Extravaganza A Success

Although postponed twice because of a snowstorm, the Gymnaestrada finally materialized on Saturday, March 31, 1984. Outstanding as usual, with senior Beth Ruppenthal as mistress of ceremonies, the show moved along smoothly from one spectacular event to the next. Starting with floor exercises, followed by group tumbling, the audience was treated to performances on the parallel bars, balance beam, side horse, pommel horse, long horse, and rings, which included demonstrations in vaulting, tiger leaping, and sommersaulting.

The triple balance team, pyramid makers, and dancers offered the usual exciting routines perfected in five weeks of training, under the direction of Mrs. Terri Thornton aided by the entire Physical Education Department. The show's finale, the touching tableau consisting of 10 boys painted silver, creating historical statuary scenes set to music with a variety of colored spot lights, was a fitting climax to this annual extravaganza.

Hall Of Fame

Mrs. Louella Hennessey Donovan, Class of 1923, served as the Kennedy family's personal nurse. Through her, President John Kennedy promoted his interest in having the federal government aid the mentally retarded. She has founded centers for the treatment of these patients as well as handicapped children.

Rev. Clarence W. Fuller, Class of 1931, is a retired Congregational minister who has helped found several retirement homes and schools for children with special needs.

Dr. Donald G. Stather, Class of 1932, is a retired Boston University professor who served as Chairman of Business Education for 33 years, and who is well known in his field.

As a part of commencement exercises, seven illustrious graduates were inducted into the school's Hall of Fame and awarded medallions as a symbol of their membership among the elite of Walpole High School's past. Inducted postumously were:

Dr. Max Knobel, Class of 1898, was an inventor who held over 50 patents. He helped design the shape, configuration, and inks used in ballpoint pens when first brought to the American market in the 1940's.

Dr. Francis X. Maguire, Class of 1908, was a well-known veterinarian in Walpole for many years and considered a pioneer in the treatment of animal burns.

Unable to attend because of scheduling conflicts were:

Dr. Edward V. Coughlin, Class of 1949, has written several books on 18th and 19th century Spanish literature.

Dr. James T. Flynn, Class of 1950, a professor at Holy Cross College, has written several books on 19th century Russia.

Relatives accepted the commemorative awards for those named above. At the close of graduation, a reception was held in the cafeteria for those who were present.

Prom

Queen Michelle Snuffer

The night of June 1, 1984, found students dancing to the theme song "Wishing on a Star" at the Blue Hills Country Club, Canton.

In a break from tradition, music was provided by a Disk Jockey instead of a live orchestra. Voted Queen was Michelle Snuffer with first runner-up Margaret Turco and second runner-up Denise Lovell as her court.

The brandy snifters and beer mugs given as souvenirs will be reminders of an evening when friends got together for one last special occasion of the year, dressed in their best attire.

The Pink Panther Strikes Again

Glancing at the photographs on these pages, who could help but absorb the atmosphere of fun and laughter that was not only enjoyed by the lucky audience of THE PINK PANTHER STRIKES AGAIN, but the cast members as well. As they sought to entertain the onlookers (very successful as it turned out), the performers themselves reaped a harvest of pleasure. In creating such a highly amusing vehicle, they assured the Class of 1984's Senior Class Play a place among the best to come out of Walpole High School.

Much credit should be given to Director Mrs. Diane Hudson, in her first year as Drama Coach at Walpole. Actors Mark Manacchio (Clouseau) and Art Tsoutsanis (Dreyfus) were outstanding as the inspector and his former boss, but popular Tom Hall was able to steal the show whenever he was in the spotlight. The number of characters in the play is very large, which caused many students to play several different parts, but all were done expertly, even by those with no previous acting experience. The performances given on April 12 and 13, 1984, certainly made them nights to remember.

Potpourri

Christmas Assembly

Santa (Arthur Tsoutsanis) and Mrs. Santa (Eileen Baker) enjoy giving that good girl (Sharon McCormack) a gift at the annual Christmas Assembly planned and participated in by Seniors who also entertained the audience with singing, dancing, and other antics designed to put everyone in the holiday mood.

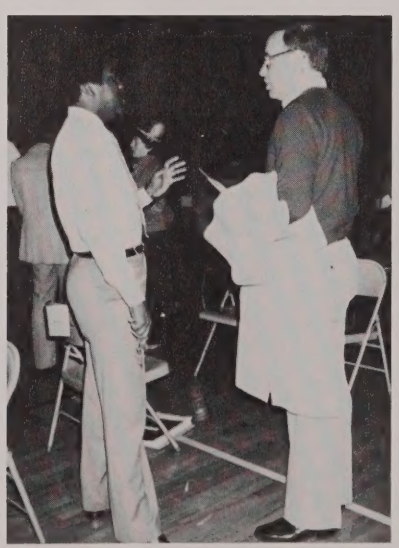
Valentine Carnations

Carnations on Valentine's Day gave secret and not-so-secret admirers a chance to send non-verbal messages.

Sadie Hawkins Valentine Dance

A semi-formal dance for Valentine's Day proved to be a success after a few years' absence. Carnations were given to all the lucky girls who attended.

Parents' Night



A parent consults with faculty member Mr. Gaston Malloy (left) as Principal Lester H. Burch gives directions at Parents' Night in November.

Donkey Basketball

Sponsored by the Friends of Walpole Baseball, Donkey Basketball returned to Walpole High School on March 23, 1984. Eight teachers and 24 students participated, divided into teams: (1) faculty, (2) softball and baseball teams, (3) track and tennis teams, (4) names of students drawn from a raffle. An hilarious time was had by all.

Thanksgiving

Marquita Dunbar and Trisha Currie, an inspired and concerned duo, sparked a canned goods drive before Thanksgiving for the needy American Indians.

Halloween

Winners of the annual Halloween costume contest haunt the halls of Gory Manor: Mike Farinacci, Terri Besette, Dana Moreshead, and Patricia Cappelletti.

Graduation

Dreams Do Come True

On Sunday, June 3, 1984, 294 graduates marched onto Turco Field, each to receive the final trophy that acknowledged personal triumphs in a 12-year encounter with curricular and extra-curricular challenges.

In varying degrees, each had targeted his or her sights on distant goals: college, jobs, the military, or simply to own a time-honored diploma. Many had hit dead center in their aim, some had only missed by a mere hairbreadth, all had reached the target and had qualified to stand that day on one level or another of the champion's podium, ready to face the next challenge with confidence and enthusiasm.

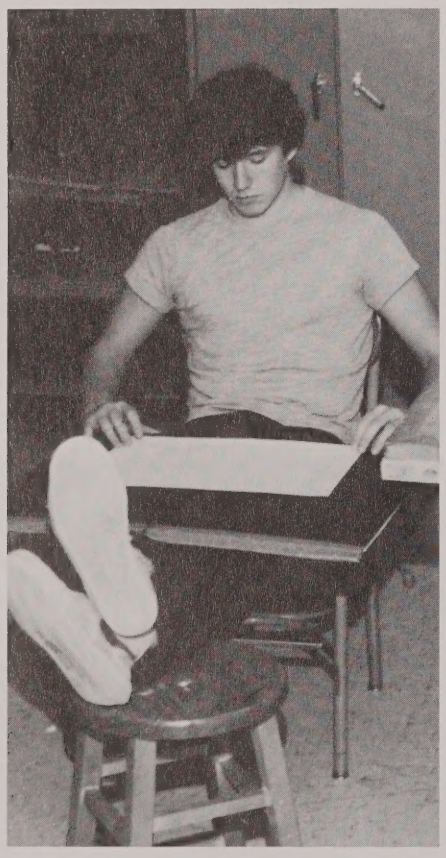
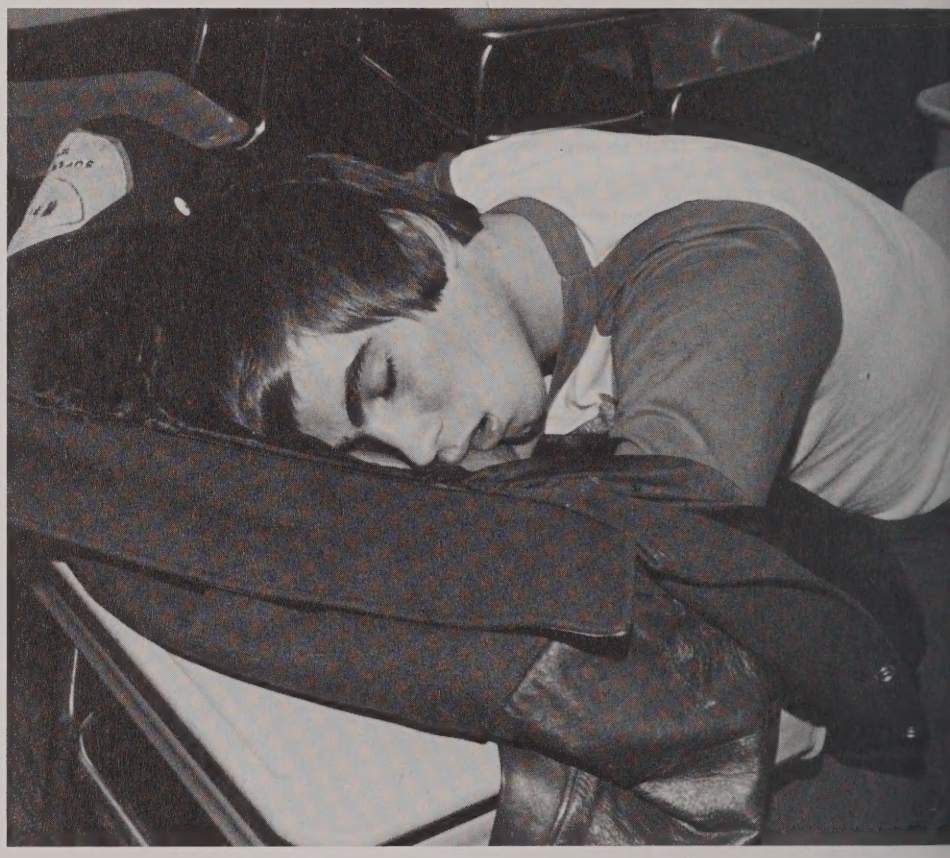
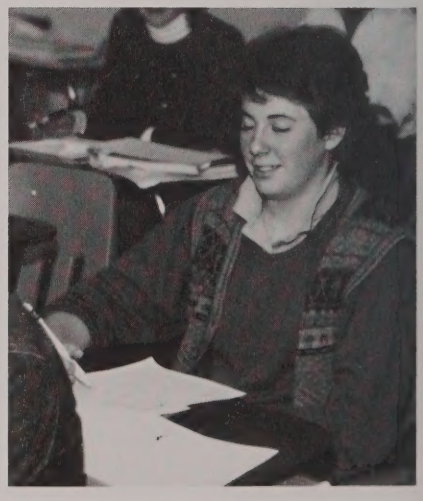
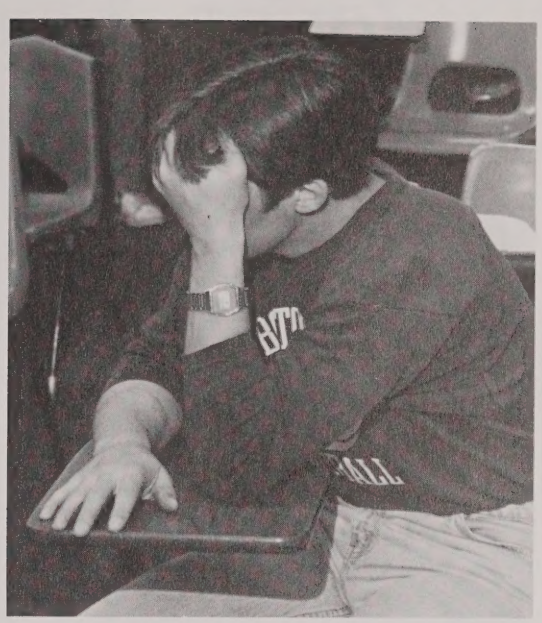
Eyeopeners

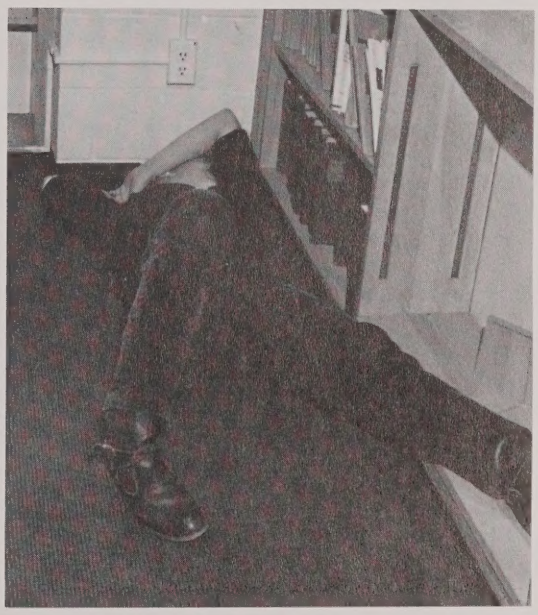
No matter how intellectually curious the human mind may be at the outset of the school year, it does reach a level of intolerance when a built-in safety valve switches it into sub, semi, or unconsciousness. In severe cases the only remedy to return the victim to normalcy is a premature passing bell, followed by the announcement, "Please ignore that bell." Reality then replaces dreamland.











Page 190: top, a poised pen and open text belie the darkened mind; middle left: a footstool makes a good substitute for a recliner; middle right: the chronic insomniac goes all the way with total abandon; bottom left: silently slouching out of sight may induce curvature of the spine, but it does avoid embarrassing questions; bottom right: pictures do sometimes lie — is this a freeze-frame between blinks or a victim of the "body snatchers"?

Spring Cleaning

The end-of-the-year locker cleanup has one compensation at least: it signals the final countdown before liftoff when students sweating in a premature 90° heatwave leave the pad to orbit summer jobs and burden-free playgrounds.

Left above: Diane Niland settles down to what promises to be a major project; above: The suffering heat made locker cleanout look more like a beach party. Kristen Friedholm and Kristy Honeywell compete for "Cleanup Queen;" left: Mr. Thomas Morris models the latest fashion in locker inspectors' official uniforms, but Tricia Saia and Stephanie Nixon are unimpressed.
